To return an item

- Select the item that you wish to return, and an option from the Reason for return menu.
- To complete your return, follow the prompts.

Note: Remember to remove all personal data from electronic items, such as laptops and cameras. If the item you are returning shares data using Bluetooth, requires a sign up, or requires an app on your personal device to operate - please make sure to reset device according to manufacturer's guidelines.

Returns label guide:

All labels and documents are needed for a successful return.

- Place the bar code inside the package.
- Affix the address label and one of the commercial invoices to the outside of the package.
- Give the second copy of the commercial invoice to the carrier.

Note: Each label is linked to a specific return. To make sure that you receive the correct refund, don't include items from different orders in the same box.

Find more solutions about returns:

- To replace a damaged, defective, or wrong item, go to Your Orders.
- To return an item to a marketplace seller, locate the item in Your Orders, and select Send a returns request. Amazon sellers review return requests before issuing a refund or replacement. If you don't receive a response within two business days, you can submit an A-to-z Guarantee claim.
- Go to Return a Gift for information regarding gift returns.
- Go to Check the Status of Your Refund for progress on your return.
